PRESIDENT BOLIVIA RESIGNS THURSDAY MUDDLES SITUATION

VICE-PRESIDENT ASSUMES POWERS; MAY DELAY PEACE MOVES

LA PAZ, Nov. 29.—(P)—President Daniel Salamanca of Bolivia resigned today.

The president's resignation followed by less than 24 hours an announcement by Vice President Luis Tejeda Sorzano that he himself was assuming "the direction of public affairs" in the absence of Salamanca who was with the troops in the Chaco boreal.

A government radio station here broadcast the announcement that Salamanca had resigned.

A special statement prepared by Tejeda also was read, in which he explained that he had conferred with important personages of La Paz, outlined the situation to them and appealed to them to help him maintain peace and act patriotically.

Previously the text of the decree announcing Tejeda's assumption of powers was read.

It was expected the cabinet would resign momentarily to allow Tejeda to go forward with the organization of his new government. David Alvestegui, foreign minister, was expected to be retained in that post.

It was announced that President Salamanca, after resigning, started for Santa Cruz, intending to continue to Cochabamba in company with his daughters. Measures to insure his safety were adopted, the announcement said.

Believed Chaco War Will Be Prolonged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—Belief that the coup d'etat in Bolivia might retard early termination of the Chaco war in South America was expressed today in Latin American circles.

This opinion was given following receipt of definite indications that high army leaders were involved in the overthrow of the Bolivian government.

Previously, it had been understood here the movement was

GOVERNMENT AGENTS CONTINUE SEARCH FOR SLAYERS OF PALS AFTER NELSON'S BODY FOUND

JOHN HAMILTON IS NEXT ON GOVERNMENT PUBLIC ENEMY LIST

DEPARTMENT JUSTICE MEN SET ON TRAIL OF LAST OF DILLINGER MOBSTER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—"John Hamilton, next-get him." That order sent department of justice men ranging a wide territory today for the last surviving principal of John Dillinger's mob.

Now that Baby Face Nelson is gone—killed by two federal men who gave their lives in the fight—Hamilton's name stands in a quartet of "public enemies" on which the federal agents are concentrating. Though the only specific federal charge against him is obstructing justice, he is wanted badly.

While considering him a contender for the title "Public Enemy Number One," agents say there are three others. They are Arthur (Doc) Barker and Alvin Karpis, named as the abductors of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul business man, and Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., accused of kidnapping Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, society leader of Louisville, Kentucky.

Grieving over the death of Inspector Samuel P. Cowley and Agent Herman Hollis, the department of justice took pride in the claim that it is rapidly covering the public enemy tag into a support to oblivion.

It was obviously pleased, too, over the surrender of "Dutch" Schultz, long considered a leader in the New York beer racket.

PLAN INCREASE IN PAYMENTS MADE TO COTTON GROWERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—The AAA will seek to increase next year the payments it makes to share-croppers and tenant farmers for curbing the production of cotton.

To this end it will ask congress for $13,000,000 to cover the cost of administering this year and next—the Bankhead act, under which the government seeks to control cotton production.

If this amount can be obtained, officials said, more receipts from processing taxes can be used for direct "parity" payments to cotton producers. At present, some of these taxes are spent on the job of administration.

Secretary Wallace expressed his desire to do this as a "social

GOVERNMENT AGENTS CONTINUE SEARCH FOR SLAYERS OF PALS AFTER NELSON'S BODY FOUND

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—(P)—The bullet punctured body of American No. 1 public enemy—George (Baby Face) Nelson—lay on a Cook county mortuary slab today, while the government's war on his kind was pushed with unabated intensity.

John Hamilton, a lieutenant in the ruthless band of killers headed by the late John Dillinger, was the object of the far-flung drive in the belief that he was with Nelson when he was fatally shot in a bare short but furious gun battle that cost the government the lives of two of its ace investigators near Barrington Tuesday afternoon.

Hardly had Nelson's body, pierced by 17 bullets, been picked up from a muddy ditch near suburban Niles Center yesterday than the federal investigators and police began a new and more extensive hunt for Hamilton. At the same time investigators hunted Alvin Karpis, already sought as one of the kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer, wealthy St. Paul banker and as the killer of Arthur W. Dunlap of West St. Paul, Minn. Other conjecture by some investigators was that if Nelson's companion wasn't Hamilton or Karpis, it might have been Thomas Touhy, leader of a notorious Chicago band of gangsters.

Killed By Dead Men.

Nelson was killed by the deadly aim of Inspector Samuel P. Cowley and Special Agent Herman Hollis, both of whom died without knowing that their guns had found their mark.

And while the government men "got" their man, there was none of the bizarre circumstances that surrounded the end of the crime career of Dillinger. Dillinger was fatally shot under the glare of the white lights of a busy north-side street. Nelson's end found him lying in a muddy ditch, a twisted smile on his face.

Apparently Nelson died as he was driven madly from the scene of the encounter with the slain

HUGE PROGRAM OF SLUM CLEARANCE AND LOW COST HOUSING

ICKES HINTS AT SIZE OF ADMINISTRATION PLANS THROUGH COMPARISON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—Hinting possibly at the vast size of which the administration may expand its slum clearance and low cost housing, Secretary Ickes said today the public works administrator's present $150,000,000 program "will barely scratch the surface."

"We know that in the end a much more liberal contribution will be, or at least ought to be, made for this desirable social purpose," Ickes said over a national broadcasting company network.

He stressed a hope for a greatly enlarged program in 1935.

BONUS ADVOCATES SCORN COMPROMISE ON FULL PAYMENT

ADMINISTRATION IS BRANDING BIG STICK LABELED "TAXES" TO OFFSET DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—While high officials of the Roosevelt administration brandished a big stick labeled "taxes" in an effort to curb the bonus drive, advocates of full and immediate payment surged forward today with the slogan "no compromise."

Though administration leaders have expressed the belief that such a drive can be blocked, the contest now getting up full steam is as to how large the expenditures of the next congress will be.

A suggestion put forward here yesterday, apparently with the tentative approval of President Roosevelt, would tie in directly with the question of relief funds. The proposal, made by Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee, was that needy veterans get their bonus immediately and—to that extent at least—be taken off relief rolls.

A suggestion that such compromise offers are an admission of defeat came from Frank H. Belgrano, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, which is on record for full payment.

Declaring "there is no compromise to make," he said at Indianapolis.

"As regards these suggested compromises, it is not the side which feels that its cause is just that comes forward with offers of an armistice. It invariably is

PRESIDENT DEVOTES DAY TO OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS REACHING WARM SPRINGS FOR HOUSING PARLEY

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 29.—(P)—President Roosevelt devoted today to the annual Thanksgiving observance for which elaborate preparations were made by his friends and neighbors.

Incidentally, government officials connected with the federal construction of houses of those without means to obtain private credit were coming in for parleys here.

James A. Moffett, administrator of the present government program to insure loans for those of better means who are able to finance credit, was here today. The new plan is apart from the Moffett program now in effect.

Moffett came here as a trustee of the Warm Springs foundation. The board assembled today with Mr. Roosevelt, the president of the foundation.

The big event of the day is the founder's day Thanksgiving dinner to be held tonight in Georgia hall when President Roosevelt serves turkey and participates in a program.

DALLAS, Nov. 29.—(P)—M. P. Ryan, music company salesman, has been charged with murder in connection with the death of Gile. C. Nelson, 26, who died after allegedly being in a fist fight with Ryan. An autopsy performed on the body of Nelson showed that death was due to a fractured skull. Nelson lived in Waukesha, Wisconsin. He was a salesman.

Nation Pauses To Observe Great Thanksgiving Day

By the Associated Press

The nation paused in its far flung activities today as its millions observed a day of thanksgiving.

Although rain and snow prevailed in many parts of the country, a festive spirit filled the air.

Today was a day of feasting in which virtually everybody participated. The needy everywhere were provided with holiday dinners.

Said Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator: "Many millions of Americans will sit down to Thanksgiving day dinners provided by the federal relief administration expending federal funds. I am thankful that those in need of food will have it."

President Roosevelt is observing Thanksgiving day at Warm Springs, Ga. Tonight he will preside at a turkey dinner for a group of young infantile paralysis patients at Warm Springs Foundation.

In Plymouth, Mass., where Thanksgiving day was given birth by the Pilgrims 313 years ago, the day will be marked by religious services in the old Pilgrimage Church.

In countless homes, Thanksgiving day meant the reunion of families as absent members returned to help celebrate the day. Transportation services were pressed to the limit by holiday travelers.

MURDER-SUICIDE THEORY IN DEATH FIVE PENNSYLVANIA

AUTHORITIES CENTER EFFORTS ON IDENTIFICATION OF FAMILY

CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 29.—(P)—Convinced from cumulative identifications that a man and woman slain at Duncanville and three little girls found dead in the mountains near Carlisle were members of the same family, state police today settled down to the task of determining who they were.

Authorities found their work made more difficult by what they believe was an attempt of the wandering family to conceal its identity as a means of protecting relatives from notoriety over the deaths which police believe were planned murder and suicide.

No definite cause of the deaths of the girls, found between blankets in a mountain thicket, has been officially established. Some

LARGE AMOUNT OF FEDERAL MONEY IS PAID TO FARMERS

COTTON PRODUCERS, MERCHANTS HAVE ADDITIONAL REASON BE THANKFUL

Cotton producers and merchants of Navarro county had an additional reason to be thankful Thursday in the receipt recently of $209,300.76 in second rental payment vouchers from the federal government for participation in the 1934 portion of the agricultural adjustment administration program.

The latest reports show that the total payments to all cotton producers in 1934 have been approximately $76,000,000 with about $500,000 of this amount received in Navarro county to stimulate business in addition to a much better price than usual for the staple produced in this area.

Total payments on the first rental, now virtually complete, have totaled $272,657.14, and the sum of $209,300.76 has been received on the second rental payments. In addition Navarro county will receive its proportionate share of a sum estimated at $28,000,000 in parity payments based on one cent per pound for the portion of the producer's average crop that reaches domestic consumption. The total payments for 1934 will mean more than $600,000 in new cash to this county during the year.

With the holiday season just ahead, producers and merchants alike are considerably heartened by these developments. The original plan of the government farm

WOUNDED COUNTY COMMISSIONER DIES MURDER BE CHARGED

MENARD, Nov. 29.—(P)—Bullet wounds inflicted in a gun fight on a ranch near Menard caused the death today of Wiley Tomlinson, county commissioner.

Sheriff Cecil Walton said H. B. Opp, a rancher, and L. E. Trimble, a special ranger, will be charged with murder. Opp posted $10,000 bond on a charge of assault with intent to murder at San Angelo last night. Trimble, wounded in the leg, is under guard in a San Angelo hospital.

A dispute over a pasture lease on the Opp ranch Tuesday was said to have precipitated the shooting.

Tomlinson, who had been a Menard county commissioner for 18 years, was survived by his widow, five sons and a daughter. It was planned to bury him at Fort McKavett this afternoon.

RAIN AND SNOW IS THANKSGIVING GIFT LARGE PART TEXAS

Thanksgiving brought rain and snow to Texas. The day dawned with a light blanket of snow covering the West Texas Plains. Lubbock reported two inches of snow fell last night, while flurries were whitening the Plainview area today. Around Amarillo the snow fall was lighter. Falling temperatures brought snow at Sweetwater and points to the north of there.

A drizzling rain was falling at San Angelo and the temperature dropped to 35 degrees in the early hours before dawn. Showers were general over that range country. Good rains were reported at Water Valley, Brady and Paint Rock.

Skies were overcast in the Plainview section but it was clear

ROYALTY OF WORLD WITNESSES WEDDING OF PRINCE GEORGE AND MARINA IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY

By BURDETT T. JOHNS Associated Press Foreign Staff

LONDON, Nov. 29.—(P)—Amid scenes of glittering pomp and splendor, George, the youngest son of the king of England and Marina, lovely member of the former Greek reigning house, were married today at Westminster Abbey, the nation's shrine.

The royal couple said "I will" before three kings and three queens royalty past and present, titled personages, the diplomatic corps and the elite of the nation's government and social life.

These were among the 1,500 guests who witnessed the union of the 31-year-old Duke of Kent and his 27-year-old bride.

Hundreds of thousands occupied every vantage point outside and cheered the royal processions to the palace. Old London had not seen such scenes since the war.

A short while afterward the union of the Duke and the Princess was sealed a second time with the solemnization of the ancient and symbolical Greek orthodox service when they had returned to Buckingham Palace from Westminster Abbey.

Schedule Is Maintained.

Despite the hundreds of thousands who jammed the route to the abbey, the wedding went off in clock-like precision. George and Marina were pronounced man and wife at 11:13 only 13 minutes after the service started.

They intoned their vows after the Archbishop of Canterbury. George's voice was slightly tense and strained, while Marina's was calm with a soft tone. It showed just a slight trace of accent.

The brilliant uniforms of the men and the gorgeous gowns of the women sparkling with costly gems gave the usually somber abbey a vivid color.

Thronging which only a few minutes before had acclaimed the passage of the wedding party from Buckingham palace to the

THOUGHT NELSON'S COMPANION TAKEN IN CHICAGO RAID

MAN AND WOMAN GRABBED AS BUS TERMINAL AND SECRECY MAINTAINED

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—(P)—Squads of state's attorney's police descended on the Union bus station today in a swift raid which prompted reports that federal agents had seized John Hamilton and the widow of George "Baby Face" Nelson.

The officers, under Lieut. Frank Johnson, covered their movements with such secrecy that police of the district believed the prisoners were in fact Hamilton and the woman, sought since Tuesday when Nelson and an aide, still unidentified but thought to be Hamilton, fought a bloody battle with government agents at Barrington.

H. H. Clegg, directing the federal agents' hunt for Nelson's helper and the woman, denied either had been taken.

Chicago police officials also professed ignorance of the reported raid. Lieut. Johnson disappeared with the prisoners were have been taken on a St. Louis bus and a woman who had been waiting for him. The man later was reported to be Charles Gideon.

The two were wanted for questioning in connection with a bank robbery—that was as much as police officials could learn.

Clegg, after two hours, emerged from the federal offices with a denial that his men had any part in the capture.

"I have no information about any arrests today," he said.

"I don't know yet who was with Nelson on Tuesday," he declared.

Adding confusion to the affair was the report of Red Caps in the station—located at 1157 South Wabash Avenue, just outside the loop business district—that the raiders had first seized the wrong couple.

To mollify them, said the red caps, the officers said: "Sorry we bothered you; we're after Nelson's accomplices."

STUBBORN BRITISH CROWD BENT UPON VIEWING PAGEANT

THOUSANDS RESORT STRATEGEMS OF VARIOUS KINDS TO SEE PRINCIPALS

By GAYLE TALBOT Associated Press Foreign Staff

LONDON, Nov. 29.—(P)—For all their celebrated good nature, British crowds can be as stubborn and bruising as any when they set their minds on seeing a fragment of a royal wedding.

From 8 o'clock this morning on, it was like trying to crash Minnesota's line to make two feet in any direction through the mob packed in the vicinity of the ceremonies attendant upon the wedding of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina.

At points, the dense pack of people extended back for a solid block from the route of the procession. Only those on hand before daylight had any hope of getting a closeup of the royal pair.

The remaining hundreds of thousands who tried to see what was going on were forced to employ every conceivable stratagem from genuine periscopes to mounds of earth laboriously piled with their hands to a height of several feet.

These mounds dotted the parkway alongside the mall like ant-hills. Ropes fastened between the trunks of trees with boards placed across them offered a vantage point for hundreds of others. The ambulance workers had their hands full handling scores

COTTON PLANTERS URGED TO CONTROL ACREAGE IN 1935

SECRETARY WALLACE CALLS
FOR ONLY 75 PER CENT
1928-32 AVERAGE

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—Expressing some misgivings concerning the cotton supply situation a year hence, Secretary Wallace Wednesday called on cotton planters to hold their 1935 acreage to 75 per cent of the 1928-32 average.

The 25 per cent cut was the maximum permitted under the two-year contract signed last year. Wallace made it plain that a larger reduction would have been asked had it been possible in view of the prospective excessive world supply of American cotton.

There was a 40 per cent reduction this year.

A broad hint that the administration would welcome continuance of the Bankhead compulsory control act in 1935 partially to alleviate this supply situation also was apparent in the announcement.

"It would not be unreasonable to expect a crop somewhere above 12,000,000 bales" from the acreage remaining after a 25 per cent cut is made, an official statement declared.

Would Reach 15,000,000 Bales

Wallace said that with a 25 per cent reduction, but without the Bankhead cotton control act in effect for 1935, total production would be greater and probably would result in a crop of slightly above 13,000,000 bales, the statement added.

That, with the estimated carry-over on August 1, 1935, would result in a world supply of between 21,000,000 and 22,000,000 bales.

Wallace said that "if the response to this program is what we expect, and production factors next season are average, there will be some 3,000,000 bales more cotton added to present supplies."

However, he added "it is the nearest approach to a balance that can, under our present knowledge of existing circumstances, be devised."

Total rental and benefit payments to be disbursed under the 1935 program were estimated at $84,230,000, the money will be raised by continuing the 42 cents per pound processing tax during the marketing year August 1, 1935, to July 31, 1936.

Parity Payments.

Parity payments under the new program will be raised from one cent per pound to one and one quarter cents. Rental payments will be continued at 3 1-2 cents per pound of cotton for the average yield on the acreage taken.

Consumer Demand Forces Retailers Heavier Orders

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(P)—The enlarged consumer demand for wearing apparel of all types has finally forced retailers to abandon the hand-to-mouth buying policy followed through the summer.

Substantial replacement orders are being booked in the New York wholesale market.

After several months of exceptionally low volume, clothing manufacturers were the first to feel the effects of sustained retail sales. Orders poured in so fast during October that many were prompted to advance prices. With the approach of the holiday season, a continued broadening of consumer demand will bring about a higher rate of activity in this division than has been enjoyed in some time.

The joint meeting will be addressed by Mrs. O. W. Pollard of Henderson, president of district 12, of which Navarro county is a part, from 10:40 to 11 a. m. Her subject will be, "How to Organize a Parent-Teacher Association," or how to carry on the organization. Mrs. Pollard is a most interesting and well-informed talker and will no doubt bring some valuable ideas on this important subject.

greater part of this gasoline was reported to be stored in Dallas and that it is being drawn from the 7,500,000 gallons which allegedly were on hand in East Texas about two weeks ago, when a number of refineries closed down because of the activities of the federal tender board and the railroad commission.

Anticipation of the commission's order banning shipment of "hot" gasoline to points in Texas has caused approximately half of this amount to be shipped out, the Times-Herald said, with the result that the huge supply has been stored here and in Fort Worth.

ABDUCTORS OF TWO OFFICERS HELD THEM IN OKLAHOMA WOODS

FREED UNHURT TUESDAY AND KIDNAPERS CONTINUE FLIGHT IN PATROL CAR

PARIS, Nov. 27.—(P)—After 18 hours of captivity in the hands of two desperate fugitives from justice, Paris policemen Newt Baker and H. R. Marks today returned safely to their homes and officers all over the Southwest set out to find the abductors, believed to be Ambrose Nix and Arthur Gooch, escaped Oklahoma prisoners.

The policemen were taken prisoner and carried away in their own patrol car early yesterday when they went to a Paris' filling station to question two men suspected of robbing a sandwich stand at Tyler the night before. The two men suddenly covered them with pistols and forced them into the patrol car, speeding away to the north.

This morning Baker and Marks were released and returned to their homes. Chief Cottrhan declared, as he revealed plans of Texas and Oklahoma officers to comb every section where the kidnapers might hide.

Identity is certain. Officers said there remained no doubt as to the identity of the kidnapers. Baker and Marks were certain they were Nix and Gooch, who broke jail at Holdenville, Okla., about a month ago.

The automobile they abandoned here has been definitely established as one stolen Oct. 31 at Durant, Okla.

The Paris officers said they rode with the outlaws about 100 miles, always covered with guns and in danger of being shot if they should make any move to escape.

Department of justice agents have joined in the hunt for Gooch and Nix and officers said the two fugitives faced poor odds in their flight. They were Nix and Gooch, who broke jail at Holdenville, Okla., about a month ago.

The automobile they abandoned here has been definitely established as one stolen Oct. 31 at Durant, Okla.

Hero In Battle Against Disease Himself Stricken

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—

Dr. Charles Armstrong, modest hero in the government's fight against disease, lay helpless in a hospital today—victim of a mysterious malady unknown to science.

For two decades a foremost "microbe hunter" of the public health service, Dr. Armstrong was struck down as he pressed research into sleeping sickness.

It is known that he bears no relation to sleeping sickness. A skin eruption appears on the sides of his body, he runs a temperature and at times grows delirious.

The possibility that he contracted the disease deliberately, making himself a "human guinea pig," was not overlooked, though colleagues said they knew nothing of that.

Once Dr. Armstrong contracted parrot fever and almost died. From his blood was made convalescent a woman who had saved the life of the wife of Senator William E. Borah.

AUSTRIAN STUDENTS' ATTACK LEGATION IN RIOTING OF TUESDAY

By JAMES A. MILLS Associated Press Foreign Staff.

VIENNA, Nov. 27.—(P)—Austrian students today attacked the Czechoslovak legation in reprisal for recent anti-German riots at the University of Prague, capital of Czechoslovakia, but were repulsed by police who battered them with swords and clubs.

Vienna was thrown into a fresh turmoil by the demonstrations. The students raised bricks and stones at the Czech-controlled newspapers, Der Tag and Die Tunde, smashing almost every window in the plants, wrecking the interior of the offices, and terrorizing the editors and printers.

Then, several hundred strong, the students marched to the Czech legation shouting: "Down with Czechoslovakia; revenge our fellow students in Prague!" They found the Czech legation encircled by police who charged into them with their sidearms flashing.

Beaten off, they marched to the Stefanplatz where the demonstration assumed a Nazi aspect, the students singing the German national anthem, "Deutschland Uber Alles."

Mounted police charged into the crowd which had gathered in the Ringstrasse near the Czech legation. Several women and children waiting for street cars were knocked down.

Rumors of Putsch During the disorders, which resulted in a number of minor casualties, the government authorities heard that the manifestations might reach the proportions of a Putsch and they closed the ball-houseplatz district where the demonstration was held.

Students dispersed at last, but they retired only when they had been overpowered by a superior force of gendarmes.

The demonstrations appeared to have had the tacit sanction of the government because an official notice was posted in the University yesterday urging all students to "repress the insult offered to the whole German race by the seizure of the Czechoslovakian education authorities of the insignia of the historic alma mater of Carolina at Prague."

It was only when the students wrecked the printing plants of the Czech-owned newspapers and attempted to burn a Czechoslovak flag that the police suppressed the riots.

BYRNS-RAYBURN IN LEAD SPEAKERSHIP BATTLE IN CONGRESS

By CECIL B. RICKSON Associated Press Staff.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—As the race for the speakership of the new house turned the back rail today, most observers believed Representatives Byrns of Tennessee and Rayburn of Texas were in the lead, with Bankhead of Alabama pulling far ahead of a field of dark horses.

The terrific pace indicates an early decision, although the actual selection of the winner will not take place until a democratic caucus January 2.

Campaigning for Byrns, the democratic leader, and Rayburn, said by some to have support in administration circles, has become intense.

Bankhead is to arrive Monday to get his campaign under way. His chances are generally believed to lie in a deadlock between Rayburn and Byrns.

The return to Washington on December 3, of Vice President Garner may have some bearing on the race. Garner is to confer with President Roosevelt on democratic organization policies and legislative program. The vice president has been a lifelong friend of Rayburn, who was his campaign manager for the presidency in 1932.

A new dark horse has just appeared in the field. Representative McMillan of South Carolina is reported to have a small bloc of votes pledged. Many others are in the race.

Caldwell of Durant, Okla., Oct. 21. A physician's case containing narcotics was stolen from a Holdenville physician shortly after Nix and Gooch, along with two other men and two women, made their escape Oct. 25.

Immediately after Paris officers were notified of the whereabouts of the missing policemen, they left for Antlers to return the men here.

PRIEST AND BRIDE OF THREE WEEKS ARE SLAIN BY HUSBAND

KILLINGS FOLLOW DRINKING PARTY AND FINDING PRIEST AND GIRL TOGETHER

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—Disheveled and apparently on the verge of complete collapse, Joseph Lieb Steinmetz, former theological student, was arraigned in homicide court today on the charge that he shot to death his 17-year-old bride and the Rev. Joseph J. Leonard, Catholic priest, after he was remanded without bail for a hearing next Monday. Steinmetz's attorney, Meyer Machlis, intimated he might use the "unwritten law" as a defense for his client.

Through his attorney, Steinmetz declared he found his bride of less than a month "in an embarrassing situation" in the priest's hotel room yesterday before she seized a pistol and slew her and the cleric.

Machlis and Mrs. Steinmetz, former dancer in Hollywood, had known the priest for several days.

"I don't want to go into that now," he added.

A bizarre twist of the honeymoon tragedy was given by the attorney's statement that the slain bride had urged her husband to purchase the gun used in the killings.

Mrs. Steinmetz "took a liking to it," he said, and Steinmetz bought it for her in Douglas, Ariz., Machlis said.

Through his lawyer, Steinmetz, 22, who turned toward the Presbyterian ministry, denied reports that he had his bride had not been happy during their brief wedded life. On the contrary, they were "very happy," he said.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR NAMED BY ALLRED AS TAX COMMISSIONER

R. B. ANDERSON FIRST AP- POINTEE ANNOUNCED FOR NEW ADMINISTRATION

AUSTIN, Nov. 28.—(P)—Governor-elect James V. Allred today announced the appointment of R. B. Anderson, adjunct professor of law at the University of Texas, as tax commissioner.

It was the first appointment in the forthcoming Allred administration publicly announced. Previously Allred had said he considered the post of tax commissioner as extremely important because of the condition of the state's finances and the various new tax legislation.

"The need for intensive research into the taxation problems of the state and the vitalization of tax administration is apparent to every one," Allred said.

"Therefore, I give me great pleasure to announce that I intend to 'borrow' Adjunct Professor R. B. Anderson from the University of Texas law school to fill the office of tax commissioner."

Mr. Anderson is unusually well qualified to fill an office which is becoming more and more important to the state's welfare. He already has made much research into taxation questions.

"Pending the time when Mr. Anderson will take office, he will work with the senate tax committee."

The present tax commissioner is H. P. Edwards.

Anderson was born June 4, 1910, at Burleson, Johnson county. He attended Weatherford College in 1928 and the University of Texas from 1928 to 1929. After teaching school a year, he returned to the University of Texas, graduating from the law school.

He practiced law in Fort Worth in 1932-33, was a member of the Forty-third legislature, and was appointed assistant attorney general on September 1, 1933.

He received his law degree from the University of Texas law faculty last year.

The chief duty of the tax commissioner is to devise ways and means of collecting delinquent taxes. He also is charged with determining the tangible values of railroad and oil and gas pipe line assets. Under the Allred administration, he will be the expert on taxation and will be asked to study the entire tax plan of the state with the view of bringing about sweeping changes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—

Slain: A 40-year-old priest and a 17-year-old show girl who was on her honeymoon.

Accused as the killer: The girl's husband of three weeks, a former divinity school student.

Police said they would arraign Joseph L. Steinmetz, 22, on the double charge of homicide today. They found him yesterday in a hotel room where five bullets had been drilled into the bodies of the Rev. Joseph J. Leonard of Lawrenceville, N. J., and Mrs. Mary T. Steinmetz, Hollywood girl, who had sought a movie career under the name of Ruth Mary Armstrong.

Saul Price, assistant district attorney who took charge of the case, said Steinmetz admitted that he shot the others after all three had been drinking and "the priest asked my wife down to his room to hear a confession."

Steinmetz was found lying near the bodies, an automatic pistol in his hand. He was quoted as saying that he had bought the weapon on his wedding trip, given it to the priest on the latter's suggestion, and then taken it from the clergyman's coat after finding his bride and the priest together.

He fired several shots, Price says the prisoner told him.

"When my mind was all in a whirl," he concluded, "I remembered nothing after that."

Studied for Ministry. Investigation disclosed that Steinmetz, a foreign-born Jew, had renounced his family's faith to study for the Presbyterian ministry in Los Angeles. There he met Mary T. Steinmetz.

The girl's marriage license showed that they had been married at Tia Juana, Lower California, November 10. They registered at the (Knights of Columbus) hotel last Tuesday. It was there that their bus trip from the West terminated.

Father Leonard registered at the hotel Sunday night as John J. Leonard of Trenton, N. J., and Steinmetz as Joseph L. Steinmetz. They met the clergyman shortly afterward. The three met again yesterday morning and, the assistant district attorney said, drank heavily.

Hotel employees told police that

TEXAS GETS THREE AND HALF MILLIONS DECEMBER RELIEF

FEDERAL ALLOTMENTS TO STATES TOTAL HUNDRED AND THIRTY MILLION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—December relief allotments totaling $130,000,000 were announced today by the relief administration.

The allotments included Kansas $2,128,450; Oklahoma $1,899,455, and Texas $3,554,485.

The total was slightly less than the $135,000,000 allotted for November, with indications that allotments yet to be made would bring the December total nearer that of the previous month.

Meanwhile it was made known that Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, will have an opportunity this week end to discuss the details of his huge relief program for 1935 with President Roosevelt.

Hopkins intends to join the President on Friday at Warm Springs, Ga., and to return with him to the capital.

In recent addresses the relief administrator has proposed an early swing to a "better type of relief."

Progress toward providing work relief jobs for all able-bodied bread winners on relief rolls has been delayed by the limited amount of funds now available for relief purposes.

The surplus relief corporation completed arrangements today for storage of 35,000,000 pounds of hides from cattle purchased by the government in the drought area.

To Store Hides. Hopkins announced that contracts to store the corporation's hides for an indefinite period had been awarded to seven firms.

In some sections of the country, other drought cattle hides held by state relief administrations are being tanned and made into articles for the needy unemployed in relief work shops.

Ultimate disposition of the stocks sent into storage by the surplus relief corporation was not disclosed. Relief officials proposed several months ago that these hides be made into shoes for a substitute, with private manufacturers and relief work shops dividing this work.

Leading manufacturers protested and Hopkins then agreed to hold the hides in storage for a time. Under the contracts announced today, he will be able to withdraw them on short notice.

NEW AAA COTTON PLANS ARE PREPARED WITH 25 PER CENT CUT AND LARGER PARITY PAY

Another Bomb Is Thrown In Fight Against Aliens

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 29.—(P)—Another outbreak in the Salt River valley anti-alien race war was reported today by police, who said a bomb, thrown by night riders, exploded in the yard of a Japanese gardener, seven miles north-west of Phoenix. An unexploded bomb was found in the yard of another Japanese.

The exploded bomb broke a window in the farm house. Members of the family were unharmed.

The second bomb was found about two miles from where the first exploded.

Sheriff's officers linked the bombings with several others in the Salt River valley in recent weeks. Deputies are patrolling the highways in the vicinity of the Japanese and Hindu farms as a result of the bombings, but no arrests have been made.

A number of injunctions restraining Japanese farmers from cultivating large areas of land have been granted by the courts since the anti-alien fight began last August. Investigating officers attributed the violence to the impatience of American farmers with what they charge is slowness of the courts to act.

No one was injured, and little property damage has resulted.

New Relief Setup For Bexar County

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 29.—(P)—Organization of a completely new setup for the Bexar county relief administration was under way today the guidance of a new relief board of seven members drafted for service by the state board of control.

The new board was named yesterday and a temporary administrator, C. L. Tullie of Galveston, directed to proceed to San Antonio to serve during the interim. The new board will require to name a successor to Guy Bonham, Bexar county administrator for the last ten months. Tullie has been administrator of Galveston county. He is expected to arrive in San Antonio Friday or Saturday.

The new relief board is headed by Theo. Plummer as chairman.

Cal Kerr says there are three elements for success in selling your property—modernization, long-term financing and advertising.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright 1932, Ed. A. Guest.)

THANKSGIVING
For strength to work; for faith
to lengthen the day;
For courage that can face despair;
Our debt of gratitude we pay;
For all that makes it sweet to live
Almighty Father thanks we give.

Against the bitterness and pain,
Against the disappointments keen,
Grant that our spirits shall remain
Patient, courageous and serene;
Grateful for each experience
Enriching life and quickening senses.

Lord, for the home and all its pleasures,
The laughter and bits of song,
The tender love that never dies,
The memories that our joys prolong;
For all the benefits we gain,
We offer thanks to Thee again.

For hope that marks us from the beast;
For beauty smiling everywhere,
Which both the greatest and the least
Have but to open their eyes to share;
For this life and the life to be,
Once more we give our thanks to Thee.

MEDICAL SCIENCE ADVANCES

Out of every meeting of the American College of Surgeons comes some good to mankind. Surgeons attending these sessions—one has just adjourned in Boston—return to their operating rooms better surgeons and the surgeon-scientist, engaged in research work teach and learn.

The benefit that comes to the layman from these meetings is in the form of longer life, less pain and the comforting knowledge that the word "incurable" is slowly being erased from the dictionary.

Few meetings of the American College of Surgeons adjourn without producing at least one piece of startling news. The "front page stuff" this year was the development of a vaccine for the prevention of peritonitis.

Although the beneficiaries are not aware of it, surgery is constantly making advances, performing miracles and changing upon remarkable discoveries. Much has been learned in the last 10 years, and yet the surgeon of 1934 will seem to the surgeon of 1944 to have been an ignorant fellow.

Looking back through the centuries one is likely to wonder how humanity survived all the plagues, accidents, ailments and diseases which have beset it. There was no such thing as medical science a few generations ago, unless blood-letting by barbers is scientific. It was not so many years ago that a merciful and intelligent surgeon in Holland saw his hospital burned to the ground because he invented an anaesthetic. In that mob there probably were doctors.

THE "DANGEROUS AGE"
In an effort to solve a problem that may be at the root of much of the nation's crime, New York City will set up a tribunal to be known as the adolescents court. It will deal with offenders between the ages of 16 and 18 years. Those who are brought before it will be beyond the age limit of the children's courts. They will be young enough to receive special attention and to be separated from contact with older offenders.

Chief Magistrate James E. McDonald frankly admits the experimental nature of the undertaking. It is proposed to operate the court for one year. Three justices will take turns in presiding over the new tribunal. The aim is set forth as being the handling of cases in such manner that the boy who deserves a "break" will get it, and the boy who does not deserve lenient treatment will be sternly dealt with.

Whether or not the present venture succeeds, it is in keeping with the growing conviction that much may be done to diminish crime if youthful offenders are wisely treated. The innovation will not of itself make this a nation of the law-abiding. It may prove of valuable assistance in reducing the sum total of lawlessness.

Bank losses caused by forced closing may be held down to no more than two billion dollars, according to a recent estimate by Jesse H. Jones, R. F. C. chairman. This is good news everywhere. The unexpected "dividends" on depositors' accounts are made possible by rising prices and improving business. Waiting for them is hard, but profitable. "Everything is worth more than it was a few months ago," says Mr. Jones.

Unfortunately, as the losses are, at best, they are nevertheless trivial in comparison with the loss the country has suffered, and still suffers, from slackened business. Before the depression our national income was close to $90,000,000,000 a year. At the lowest ebb, two years ago, it fell below $40,000,000,000.

That was a clean loss of $50,000,000,000 a year, spread among nearly all of us. The loss from the prosperity level is still running perhaps between $30,000,000,000 and $40,000,000,000 a year, more loss every month than all these bank losses together have been. The big fight is to restore our income losses.

REVOLUTIONARY DIET

One of the best tales of the red menace we've seen is this one, by Paul Mallon. A New York soap box orator was holding forth in Union Square on the glories of the coming revolution.

"Dese people on Park Avenue," he announced, "are living in beeg apartments and eating strawburs and crim. Comes the revolution, and you also will live in beeg apartments and eat strawburs and crim."

A man up front broke in, protesting that he didn't like strawburies and cream. The orator shook his forefinger under the critic's nose and yelled:

"Comes the revolution, and you will eat strawburs and crim—and like it!"

Popular as this grand old American dish is, it wouldn't suit everybody. Some people break out in a rash when they eat strawburies. As a steady diet, we would not care for it. Nor spaghetti, either. Nor caviar. Nor pumpernickel. At the same time, it must be admitted that a lot of good Americans are getting awful tired of beans.

DRIVING IS A PRIVILEGE
Statistics gathered by insurance companies from all parts of the United States show that drivers of automobiles may be divided somewhat arbitrarily into two classes—those who are safe and others who are dangerous. The safety engineer for the Maryland Casualty Company is authorized for the information that 10 per cent of the drivers cause 60 per cent of the motor accidents, indicating that the menace to safety comes primarily from habitual speeders and violators of the rules of travel.

These findings suggest a course of action leading to an improvement in this condition—namely, a more rigid regulation of the privilege of driving a motorcar. Motorists must be made to realize that driving is, after all, a privilege, and that it should be regarded as such—one that is to be forfeited the moment the driver demonstrates, either through incompetence or recklessness, that he is a source of danger to the traveling public.

Each day witnesses a new sacrifice of human life on the highways. Consistently the annual total grows to more appalling proportions. Eventually, society must adopt a sterner attitude toward motorists who, through their light regard for their own lives and the lives of others, imperil even the most cautious users of the highways.

"The bonus is reciving consideration from every angle," Harrison said.

"If proponents would agree that those ex-service men who are in need should be given immediate payment of the service certificates, I haven't the slightest doubt we could get together and pass the legislation."

Can He Replace the Babe?

Need for a worthy successor to the great Babe Ruth prompted the purchase of Joe Di Maggio, slugging outfielder of the San Francisco Giants, who joins the Yankees next fall at a cost of five players and $75,000. MYSTERY DEATHS authorities they may be suffocated. The man and woman were shot with a rifle. An automobile found abandoned near McVeytown, which answered the description of the car in which the roving family was tried, was found in a mountainous area near Pennsylvania, had no license plates. Efforts had been made to trace the family from place to place.

Several additional identifications were added today to the growing list already made as state police traced the family from place to place.

Others Identified.

At Carlisle, Pa. and Mrs. R. H. Petrie of Waynesboro, identified the bodies of the three children as those of the family. A man and woman in a car which stopped at their tourist home on November 17 but did not remain. Mrs. H. Elmer Snyder, a rooming house proprietor of Gettysburg, Pa., said she had previously had said the family stayed there that night.

At Duncannon, a Philadelphia restaurant operator, a waitress and a patron of the place said the bodies of the slain man and woman were those who were in a restaurant there on November 18 and 19 with the three little girls whose bodies are at Carlisle.

Convinced the girls were put to death because they were a "burden" to the impoverished man and woman, a waitress concentrated on these questions:

"Who are the five victims of the mysterious tragedy?"

"Where did they come from?"

"What caused the deaths of the children found huddled in blankets on a mountain side near Carlisle?"

Police said they were sure that the man shot the woman and himself in the Duncannon shanty near Altoona.

Adams said today that the five deaths were a case of murder and suicide "without a doubt."

Missing Link Found.

Another missing link in the case of the mysterious deaths, police hope to identify the adults and children has been supplied, disclosed by a bakery truck driver who said the adults, traveling alone, "bummed" a ride on his truck from Huntingdon to Altoona on November 22, two days before the bodies were found.

At McVeytown an abandoned automobile was found answering the description of the car in which the mysterious family was traveling for a week prior to the tragedy.

The fact that license plates on the abandoned car were taken off and efforts were made to effect the number of the motor were interpreted by Adams that the adults wanted to protect relatives from a painful publicity as a result of the planned murder and suicide.

Persons identified the adults and children's bodies yesterday, including Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dill, tourist camp proprietor.

Are In Philadelphia.

Mrs. Anna LeFavre, Miss Anna Gasparon and Louis Ellis, all said the dead were the persons who ate three times in a Philadelphia restaurant early last week. Ellis is the manager of the restaurant, Miss Gasparon is a waitress and Mrs. LeFavre a customer.

These were added Charles McVeytown, tourist camp operator near the Dills, who said the roving family stayed with him November 18 and left a bottle bearing a label of a Sacramento brewery company, which Bristow gave to police.

Ellis said he had talked with the man who told him he came from California in search for a job. "The man told him he was willing to take 'any kind of a job' adding:

"My family is getting to be a heavy burden."

State police had another lead from Sheriff Otis Snodgrass of Muncie, Ind. He reported that First Dallas Barker, 40, of Muncie, told him she thought the three girls were her own by her husband, Cornfield Billy Williams, black-face vaudeville comedian, when they were separated six years ago.

Williams, 50, had relatives in Pennsylvania and New York, M. S. Barker said, and the children were Erma Jean, 13, Dorothy Bennett, 11, and "On De Lee, 9. Erma Jean had a scar on her forehead and resembled pictures of the oldest girl, the mother said.

Man and Woman Are Identified Thursday

DUNCANVILLE, Pa., Nov. 29.—Three residents of Philadelphia early today identified the man and woman found shot to death near here as the couple who were in a Philadelphia restaurant with the three small girls on November 18 and 19.

Previously they had identified the three little girls found dead in the mountains near Carlisle as the children who accompanied the couple to the restaurant.

Accompanied here by state police from Harrisburg, Mrs. Anna LeFavre, Louis Ellis and Miss Anna Gasparon, all of Philadelphia, said they are positive the man and woman were the couple who were in the restaurant.

Ellis is proprietor of the La Salle restaurant in Philadelphia and Miss Gasparon is a waitress. Mrs. LeFavre was a customer.

Had Identified Children.

The trio had come to Duncannon after viewing the bodies of the children at Carlisle. After identifying the man and woman they left with state police for Harrisburg.

The man and woman were found Saturday in a little railroad flag station near Duncannon. Both had been shot by a small calibre rifle and police have attributed their deaths to murder and suicide. Investigators are now sure there is a definite link between them and the children who were found huddled on a blanket in the wood near Carlisle.

Police told troopers she particularly noticed the group in the restaurant because each time they were there the man purchased but one meal for all five.

Bought Food For Youngest.

She said on the first day she bought food for the smallest girl, aged about 8, but that the other two girls declined to let her buy anything for them.

Ellis and Miss Gasparon also said they had seen the group of five on the two days and remarked on the fact that but one meal was purchased for all.

Ellis previously had told police he had taken with the man, who said he was from California and looking for work. He said the man told him he would accept any kind of work and that "my family is getting to be a pretty big burden."

Early today Lieut. Andrew Hubbock of the state police and Donald M. Wagner, completed dead masks of the man and woman. Masks of the children were made several days ago.

State police announced that J. C. Reich, itinerant vaudeville performer, had been eliminated as a suspect in the effort to identify the bodies of the man and woman. Police said photographs of the Duncannon man had been shown to persons in Pennsylvania towns where he was known and none identified him. Reich, whose home address was reported to be Ocean Park, Calif.

FORMER COMMANDER OF AMERICAN LEGION OF TEXAS ON TRIAL

WACO, Nov. 27.—(P)—Tilman J. Archer of Franklin, whose name is on the list of alleged forgers of federal district court here today, said he authorized Perkins to endorse his name to the checks.

Archer testified that he did not receive the proceeds of the checks, that the signatures on them were not his genuine signatures and that he himself did not endorse them.

His checks were for $399.19, $25 and $37.50, respectively. Photographs of the checks were presented in evidence. Archer testified before examining these copies.

Perkins, former state American Legion commander, is being tried on an indictment charging forgery of endorsees' names to six veterans' compensation checks with an aggregate face value of $1,238.

A deposition alleged given by Perkins last April while he still was state American Legion commander was offered as government evidence yesterday.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho) said he had given some thought to such a compromise but concluded it was impracticable. "Also," he said, "it reduces the soldier to the status of a defendant before the government pays him, which is not a very agreeable thing to do."

Will Require More Taxes.

Blunt warnings have come from several administration quarters in recent days that cashing the bonus involving more than $2,000,000,000 will require additional taxes. It is felt in some circles that the compromise might necessitate new taxes, also, but the amount has not been estimated.

Relief, another paramount problem with great bearing on government finances, will be threshed out in a week-end conference at Warm Springs, Georgia, by the Federal Reserve Board and relief administrator Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury, and Rexford G. Tugwell, under-secretary of agriculture.

The meeting was considered of vast importance. To it Hopkins is expected to carry a major scheme involving a sharp swing away from month-to-month doles. Under this plan, destitute but deserving families would get lump sum loans considered large enough to put them on their feet.

ARRESTS

Edgar Hoover, director of the division of investigation, it was said nothing was known of the Chicago arrests.

Ford Coupe Taken.

But a Ford Coupe in which the woman was waiting for the traveler was taken to the Chicago offices of the division and then removed again.

The arrests came in the midst of a hot search for Nelsons' widow and his aide. Clegg, rushed here by plane and train from Washington after Nelson and two accomplices had been mortally wounded in a furious gun battle had cancelled all holiday leaves for his men.

The search focused on the metropolitan area. What puzzled the searchers was that Nelson's two companions had vanished in daylight sometime yesterday morning, when Nelson's nude body was dumped into a ditch near Niles Center, a suburb 15 miles north-west of the loop district.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—(P)—Five carloads of federal agents' flight after noon today captured a man believed to be John Hamilton, Dillinger gang gunman, and a woman thought to be the widow of George (Baby Face) Nelson, slain yesterday.

The two were captured at the union bus station at Roosevelt Road just south of the Loop business district. A witness said the federal agents clubbed the man into submission with the butts of their riot guns.

The squad was heavily armed, and its size gave credence to reports that the quarry was Hamilton.

The station master said the couple had just arrived on an inbound bus, and were about to enter a waiting automobile when a swarm of federal agents seized them. The waiting car, he said, carried Indiana license plates.

The couple was seized after the department of justice had thrown its full force into the hunt for Hamilton, last of the major Dillinger desperadoes.

Holiday Leaves Cancelled.

H. H. Clegg, 34th official, who he reported Washington after Nelson and two accomplices had been mortally wounded in a fierce gun fight, Tuesday near suburban Barrington, had cancelled all holiday leaves of members of the Chicago staff.

Clegg indicated he strongly believed Hamilton was with Nelson during the battle.

Before the end of the couple was reported, Clegg stated:

"I can't tell you now who was with Nelson but Hamilton is the one we are looking for."

"Hamilton is the last of Dillinger's chief lieutenants," he said, "pointing out law enforcement agencies had eliminated all the rest with guns or the electric chair."

"The boys haven't let up for a minute."

None Would Comment.

No one at Chicago offices of the bureau of investigation would comment upon the capture, immediately.

At the station, only recaps saw the federal agents make the arrests.

Giving strength to the theory that the prisoners were in fact Nelson's widow and Hamilton—or if not Hamilton, the accomplice of Nelson in battle Tuesday at Barrington which cost the lives of two federal agents—was an incident that preceded the capture.

"At first, the agents seized the young man," said J. C. Reed, manager of the station.

"He was highly indignant, and to soothe him, one of the agents said:

"After Nelson Accomplished."

"Sorry we bothered you; we're after Nelson's accomplices."

The bus was inbound from St. Louis, Chicago, Illinois, is the last point at which passengers can buy tickets for Chicago, but it would have been possible to purchase a ticket for some point outside Illinois in Wisconsin or Indiana.

H. H. Clegg denied the agents he was heading had made any arrests.

"I have no information about any arrests today," he said.

"I don't know yet who the man and woman were with Nelson Tuesday," the federal agent declared.

She was believed to have negotiated transactions with other gang leaders in his behalf.

It was said she had on at least one occasion secured a supply of guns for him.

MAN CONVICTED IN CONNECTION KILLING OF CATTLE INSPECTORS HAS BEEN GRANTED FULL PARDON

AUSTIN, Nov. 27.—(P)—Milt Good, convicted 12 years ago in the sensational killing of two West Texas cattle inspectors, today was granted a full pardon by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Good was charged with killing H. L. Robinson and W. D. Allison, inspectors for the Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association at a hotel in Seminole in 1922.

He was convicted in Lubbock and Taylor counties on charges of murder and given 25 and 28 year imprisonment sentences. His last trial was in July, 1923.

Tom Ross also was charged in connection with the double slaying. He died several years ago in Montana after escaping from prison.

Good escaped twice from the penitentiary but was recaptured. In 1932 he was granted a full pardon by Governor Ross C. Sterling.

Good's pardon is effective January 20, 1935.

The governor's proclamation said Good "has served with flat time and overtime and commutation something like seven years and the district judge and the jurors who tried the case now recommend a pardon. It stated, "and the private prosecutors have declined their protest against a pardon and say they will approve it."

The car waiting for the two bus passengers, however was taken in charge by the federal agents. It was a black (Ford) coupe, bearing Indiana license 402437.

Red caps at the bus station at 1137 South Wabash avenue said the man and woman alighted from the St. Louis bus, walked through the station and to the street in front.

Woman Waited in Auto.

The woman was not with him, who he reported, was waiting nearby in the parked automobile.

The federal agents had cleared the street. When the man emerged, he was seized. Some witnesses said he offered no resistance.

Chicago police knew nothing about the capture.

The sergeant said the first police officer to see the couple was reported to have been seized and said he knew nothing of the affair. He said state's attorney's officers had picked up a man from the Chicago bus depot and had brought him to the detective bureau. No charges were preferred against Gideon, the sergeant said.

Indianapolis authorities said the licenses on the Ford coupe had been issued to Frank Martin of (883 Columbia) Fort Wayne, the owner of a Cadillac.

Nelson Used Wife To Save Himself

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—The department of justice said today that George (Baby Face) Nelson had used his wife as a shield in the battle at Barrington, Ill., in which two federal men were killed and he was mortally wounded.

Nelson, officials said, frequently traveled with his wife in a state of mind to cause law officers to hold their fire.

It became known that Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollie, the operatives killed, had not fired on Nelson, his wife and a companion until fired on.

This information was one of the few details of the conflict supplied by Cowley before he died.

This revelation was given as word came from Chicago that persons believed to be Mrs. Nelson and John Hamilton, associated with Nelson under John Dillinger, had been captured.

The office of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the division of investigation, said nothing was known here of the report.

Pointing to the importance of the capture of the couple, law enforcement officers asserted that on occasion she had acted as a go-between and intermediary for him.

She was believed to have negotiated transactions with other gang leaders in his behalf.

It was said she had on at least one occasion secured a supply of guns for him.

Whatever action is taken for a pardon of the said Milt Good, the attorney continued, "who protested this case, while he does not now recommend that this man be given clemency, states that since Good has been a prisoner for more than ten years and has done nothing to show that he should be exercise of clemency he would not complain at such action."

"Milt Good when first taken to the penitentiary in 1922, was given a 'hard but was recaptured and returned to the penitentiary and in 1927 made another escape and was recaptured, and since doing power feels that he should be exercise of clemency he would not complain at such action."

"He is at the present time a state approved trusty with work in connection with the Hunt for Hamilton, and in the opinion of every one who comes in contact with him is a reformed man and more than likely will make a good citizen if given clemency."

Good's wife is apparently an excellent woman and in good standing, and they have seven or eight daughters. He also has a near relative in the cattle business who has always given him remunerative employment as Good is an excellent cattle hand roper."

The report further stated that "the state of Texas has been informed of the pardon of Ross, and the Texas board of pardons that Good fell under the influence of Ross," one of the most desperate killers in the South, who had been implicated in the killing of W. D. Allison and H. L. Robinson who were both shot by Ross while Good was operating with him.

Gave Information.

"After these crimes were committed, Good was arrested, and rangers in charge of the investigation, who had been told for protection which they told him they would give him, and thereafter gave the rangers information of value in regard to the capture of the couple. Tom Ross after escaping from the penitentiary killed two men in the northwest, after which he committed suicide which goes to show the desperate nature of this man."

Killed in Hotel Lobby.

Roberson and Allison were killed on the night of April 1, 1923, in the lobby of the hotel in Seminole.

Ross was convicted in Taylor county of the murder of Roberson and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment. He was charged with the murder of murdering Allison and given a 35 year sentence. He accepted the latter sentence and withdrew his appeal.

Good was convicted in Lubbock county of killing Allison and sentenced to 26 years in "prison. Later he was convicted in Taylor county of murder in the slaying of Roberson and sentenced to 25 years imprisonment.

Shortly before their deaths, Roberson and Allison had investigated the case of the couple and Good and Ross had been indicted for cattle theft.

SENATORS OF TAX PROGRAM COMMITTEE ASK BUSINESS AID

AUSTIN, Nov. 28.—(P)—Texas senators comprising a tax program committee observed Thanksgiving Day morning by compiling a list of prominent business men from over the state whom they will invite to suggest means for balancing the state's budget.

Senator Arthur P. Duggan, of Littlefield, chairman, said about 100 members representing the state's varied interests had been chosen while all others with suggestions were invited to appear at hearings starting Monday. The discussions of means with business men will continue intermittently after Christmas holidays.

Some of the group, to whom Senator Duggan said letters will be sent tomorrow, included R. S. Sterling, former governor and W. C. Clayton, Houston; I. H. Kempner, Galveston; Wilbur Hawk, Amarillo; C. E. Jackson and Nelson Phillips, Dallas; J. M. North and Ireland, Hampton, Fort Worth; C. M. Caldwell, Abilene; H. H. Elmer, El Paso; W. W. Cameron, Waco; John G. Wilkey, and H. H. Ochs, San Antonio; Charlie Guy and C. E. Jones, Lubbock; O. W. Killam, Laredo; and G. A. Kelly, Longview.

Ask Sales Tax Information.

Meanwhile the committee dispatched letters to governors of 24 states levying sales taxes for information on that method of raising revenue. The question of sales tax was indicated as a likely topic for lively discussion in the forthcoming hearings.

Surveying its task, the committee foresaw need for new or additional tax levies to raise nearly $25,000,000 in the next biennium. Over current operating expenses approaching the $30,000,000 mark. Need for the additional money as noted in an existing deficit of nearly $15,000,000; necessity of approximately $7,000,000 to service state relief bonds, and as a check in deficit of nearly $3,000,000 biennially.

Civic Funeral Is Planned For Slain Officer

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 29.—(P)—Samuel P. Cowley, killed in a gun battle with gangsters near Chicago Tuesday, will be given a civic funeral in the assembly hall on the Latter Day Saints temple square here next Sunday noon. Burial will be in City cemetery.

The justice department officer's body will arrive here Saturday, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Cowley, were informed today.

The funeral services will be under the auspices of the Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies.

Student Fatally Burned

DENTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—Agonized screams led to the finding today of Miss Helen Gardner, probably fatally burned, in the bathroom of the home where she boarded. The girl, whose home is in Wichita Falls, as a junior student at North Texas State Teachers college.

Mrs. M. C. Henry, at whose home the Thanksgiving tragedy occurred, said Miss Gardner was lying in a bathtub with flaming towels over her body. The towels appeared to have been soaked in some inflammable fluid and Miss Gardner was unclothed, Mrs. Henry said.

Beside burns over most of her body, hemorrhaging from the bathroom but found the door locked from the inside and it was necessary to force the door.

When Mrs. Henry heard the girl screaming, she rushed to the bathroom but found the door locked from the inside and it was necessary to force the door.

There are no dormitories at North Texas State Teachers college and the students board out, many of them at private homes.

BEAUTY EXERCISES

INTERESTING EXERCISES
You may think that exercising can't be interesting—well, you're wrong. Try the simple exercises Miss Forbes recommends and you will like doing them.

Perhaps you like to exercise—some people do, and it's marvelous for health, figure, complexion and for relieving depressed spirits. Exercise if you like it. If you go about it right, you'll find it interesting. You choose exercises which amuse rather than bore you. As you learn to do them even the boring ones ones have a habit of becoming interesting. Here are some suggestions.

To reduce the stomach. Kneel on the floor, arms out, shoulder-hugs. Don't move the hips, but turn the body as far to the right and left as you can, and keep moving about like this a dozen times before you stop and rest. Here's another. Lie on the back on the floor, feet under a piece of furniture. With no help from your hands, raise yourself with straight spine to a sitting position, lie down and repeat a dozen times. You can soon do it without tucking your feet under a heavy object. Still lying on the floor, draw one knee up to your chest, straighten your leg with your toe pointing towards heaven, and slowly return foot and leg to the floor without bending the knee. Repeat with the other leg, then both legs together—also a dozen times.

What about those rear muscles, the ones you only use to sit upon? These days of motoring they are probably gone flabby so the whole lower back sticks out too much. Try this for it. Lie on your stomach on the floor, your chin supported by your hands this way you used to read books as a child. Now raise both feet and legs off the floor as far as possible and let them down as slowly as possible. This is a marvelous exercise, and you will soon see as well as feel how much good it does you.

Add to your beauty by remembering to keep your stomach in and your chest up, your chin out and your shoulders straight. Stick out your chest and the rest follows automatically.

E. T. V.—The only thing to do is to eliminate the foods that caused the toxic condition, although now that you have improved it through the dieting, it is possible that you need not have to make the sacrifices of going without the meats and pastries you enjoy so much. You will not crave the sweets you did before, nor care for the large amount of food, so there will be less reason for a return of the trouble. It would pay you, though, to cultivate a taste for fruit and vegetables. You will derive so much satisfaction from them, that you will care less and less for the foods that have clogged and caused the old trouble to return.

J. V.—Toasting bread does not effect its caloric content to any extent, but it does it out, making it more digestible, and less apt to cause fermentation in the digestive tract. All refined white flour products are apt to do this, and should be carefully chewed to get the first stage of digestion done properly.

Dorothy.—At 25 years of age, height five feet, four inches, your weight should be from 120 to 125 pounds. As your sister is but 15 years of age, there can be no settled matter about her weight, because she is in the period where there will be a great deal of changing. The general condition is what counts, and with good health, weight will care for itself.

Mrs. N. M.—The idea of using what is known as "circulation creams" is that of a cream that heats enough to bring the blood up to the skin.

HILLIARD OF TEXAS BEATS OUT STAR WHO PLAYED VERY LITTLE

RICE PLACES FOUR, TEXAS
TWO, SMU TWO, ARKAN-SAS TWO, TCU ONE

DALLAS, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The Associated Press' all-southwest conference football team, selected by vote of twenty Texas sports writers, includes players from five of the seven conference teams. The Baylor Bears and Texas A. and M. Aggies failed to produce talent strong enough to make the consensus selection.

Perhaps the outstanding surprise was the failure of Robert Wilson, elusive Southern Methodist University halfback and the conference's leading scorer, to make the team. John Hilliard, University of Texas halfback and one of the greatest of all Southwest halfbacks, beat out Wilson for the left halfback position. Bill Wallace, Rice's candidate for all-American honors, was the right halfback position without stiff competition. John McCauley's campaign for the quarterback job was his from the start.

Harry Shuford of Southern Methodist landed the fullback job to complete the backfield of Hilliard, Wallace, McCauley, and Shuford. It is a versatile, speedy, and capable of easily accomplishing most anything required of a winning quartet of all-luggers.

Wing positions went to Sylvester or Rice and Sanger of Texas, who polled enough votes to beat Paul Rucker of Arkansas and Roach of Texas Christian. Miller of Rice and Benton of Arkansas landed the tackles, while Spivey of Arkansas and Wetzel of Southern Methodist were placed at the two guards. Darrell Lester, Texas Christian's great pound center who played a great game against Baylor last week, had practically no competition for center. Lester got 13 of the twenty votes.

WACO-TEMPLE HAVE TWO PLAYERS ON MYTHICAL LINEUP

BRAINS, SPEED AND POWER
FURNISHED BY ALL-
STAR PLAYERS

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor

Five members of the Corsicana high school 1934 Tigers are selected on the writer's all-District 12 selection. This selection is based on the games witnessed during the season and although there are a number of excellent players about as good as those selected, the writer believes that the all-star club, if coached by John A. Pierce, head coach of Corsicana, with Stan Lambert, line coach at Temple, as line instructor and with Jimmy Gardner, Corsicana, as assistant as chief scout, could win the state title with ease.

The 1934 Corsicana team is size, speed, football brains and can take it, presenting an all-star ball-tugging department behind a big, bruising smart line.

Left guard—Odell Griffin, Cleburne, 185 pounds.
Center—Kl Aldrich, Temple, 175 pounds.

Right guard—Paul Harshaw, Corsicana, 180 pounds.
Right tackle—Charley Aston, Corsicana, 185 pounds.

HUNTERS BRING BACK EVIDENCE THAT DEER ARE PLentiful

The camp consists of a frame sleeping lodge, spacious frame kitchen and dining room and an overhanging water tower and an unlimited supply of hot and cold water and other conveniences.

Al Smith Becomes Sachem Next Monday. NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(P)—Alfred E. Smith, head of the brown shirt and the radio is to be installed as Sachem of the Tammany Society next Monday.

Not to be confused with Tammany Hall, the New York county democratic organization, the society has always represented itself as purely civic.

His installation into the governing body of the ancient organization will come as another evidence of burying the hatchet between the Hall and Smith after some five years of chilly regard.

Smith did not take part in Tammany political activities, or in directing Tammany policy, from the time John F. Curry became the Hall's leader. Curry was deposed some months ago.

In becoming a Sachem, however, Smith will sit with Sachem Curry at the council table and with the other Sachems, James A. Foley, George Gordon Battle, Thomas G. Crain, Daniel E. Finn, William P. Kennelly, Louis F. Harfen, former Mayor John P. Erie, George W. Olney, David H. Knott, Daniel L. Ryan, and Henry W. Unger.
